

What is the Respect in Sport Parent Program?

The Respect in Sport Parent Program is a 1 hour online program is designed to reinforce a parent's role while empowering parents to ensure the safety of their children, encouraging positive and effective communication and to enhance a child's positive experience in addition to the camaraderie of the activity.

It also offers information on a parent's natural influence over their child's enjoyment of a sport or activity. The program also provides parents with tools to evaluate their own behaviours.

IMPORTANT**

When beginning the course it is important to open "Child Management" and enter all children you have registered in hockey in order to associate your certification with your child's profile on the Hockey Canada Registry. As more children become involved from your family please add them using this same feature.

What is the cost to take the Respect in Sport Coach/ Volunteer Program?

$12+hst/household

Why is this program being implemented?

Hockey Canada believes that the hockey experience for all involved should be built on a foundation of respect. Respect in Sport helps to promote these values through this simple and convenient online tool. The Respect in Sport Parent Program is being implemented to provide and enhanced and positive sport environment for our children.

Is the Respect in Sport Parent Program mandatory?

For the 2013-14 season one parent of every newly registered player (regardless of level).

IMPORTANT Please be aware if you are the parent of an IP or Novice player from the 2012-13 season and/or have already taken the Respect in Sport Parent Program, please refer to the "Child Management" section of the Respect in Sport Parent Program to simply add the new registered child.

How is the Respect in Sport Parent Program being implemented?

Respect in Sport is presented online and included audio visual presentations.

What equipment is required to complete the program?

1. Computer
2. Internet Connection
3. Speakers and/or headset
4. Printer (optional)

What if I do not have a high speed internet connection?

The course is designed to be accessible from any computer using dial-up or high speed internet.

What if I do not know anything about computers?

Through extensive research and development, the program was designed first and foremost to be user friendly. There is also an on-line "HELP" feature as well as a 1 800 support line available 1 866 945 9906.

Is there a paper version of the Respect in Sport Parent Program?

No. By design, Hockey Nova Scotia is continuously looking for tools to help support organizations at minimal costs. Respect in Sport also gives you on going access to the course once you have completed it, as an online resource. There are however, printouts to be used or printed off for your own resources.

How long is the course?

Less than 1 hour.

Do I have to do the entire course all at once?

No, you can do it at your leisure; come and go as necessary. The program remembers where you left off and brings you back when you next sign in. You are even able to access it from different computers.

What happens if I forget my login and password?

Contact the Help Desk @ 1 866 945 9906.